THE WEATHER.

The daily record of the thermometer in this city is reported by C. W. Brandon, druggist, corner Main and First streets. The record for yesterday was: 7 a. m., 51 degrees above; 12 m., 52 degrees above; 4 p. m., 47 degrees above; 8 p. m., 44 degrees above.

ABOUT THE CITY.

Dr. W. H. Hall of Butte is in the Copper City on a visit to friends.

Born - To Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Gant, of this city, on Nov. 4, a son. Mother and child are doing well.

Miss Harris' dancing class meets at Chestnut street school house every Friday evening. The new dances are taught from 9 to 10 p. m. After that time a hop is given which lasts until 12 m. Price for single evening 75 cents each, or $1.25 a couple. Only regular pupils admitted before 9 o'clock.

Messrs. Losen & Maxwell have presented to the High school library a valuable atlas of the world. The gift is much appreciated by the teachers and pupils. The school will soon have a large library of valuable reference books. The work of classification of the mineral specimens for the High school's mineral cabinet has almost been completed. The students are justly proud of the fine collection.

A Shetland pony created great amusement by running away yesterday. The bandy-legged little fellow could not go much faster than a rat, but he did his best. On West Park avenue three or four men ran out and grabbed the road cart to which the little fellow was attached and they pulled him to a standstill. Another man then threw his arms around the frightened charger's neck and he gave up. This method of capturing a runaway horse was quite novel and caused the spectators to laugh heartily.

The body of A. T. Playter will be exhumed to-day by Undertaker Ehret and shipped to Toronto, Ont. This is done in accordance with a request on the part of Playter's friends and relatives in Canada. At the time of its burial a couple of months ago the body was embalmed and encased in an air tight coffin and it is thought no change of encasement will be necessary before shipment. There will be no services in connection with the removal of the remains from the cemetery to the station.

Tim Slattery, of Galesburg, Ill., vice grand master of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, was in Anaconda yesterday and the day before. His visit was in the interest of that organization, a strong branch of which exists in this city. The work of rejuvenating the local branch after the resumption of work at the smelters was entrusted to the superior officers of the organization. There is a movement on foot to amalgamate this order with the Order of Railway Conductors.

Slattery is well known in this state. Some years ago he was yard master of the Montana Union of Butte when Nick O'Brien was trainmaster. Shortly after leaving Montana Slattery was honored by a high office in the switchman's great organization, and his time has been pretty well occupied ever since with the duties of his office. He is a man of large and liberal ideas, considerable executive ability and plenty of ambition. He is large-hearted and scrupulously honest and enjoys the universal respect of railroad men. Slattery had a good time with old friends in the city and said the affairs of the order he represents are in a splendid condition.

Dr. W. A. McPherson, a prominent young physician of New Whatcom, Wash., was in this city on his way to England, where he will study for a year in the London hospitals. He is enthusiastic about the outlook for the city wherein he makes his home.

"New Whatcom," said he, "is the rising place of the whole Pacific coast. Our town three years ago had 2,000 people in it; to-day it has 16,000. There were four towns on Bellingham bay, which has on the coast Whatcom and Seholms, Bellingham and Fairhaven. The first two united under the name of New Whatcom, and the second pair also joined and were called Fairhaven. The two towns thus formed are only a few miles apart, and it is now proposed that they should amalgamate under the name of Bellingham. I said we are the coming place because we are going to be a great railroad and steamship terminus. We are already the American terminus of the C. P. R., which is a sleeper daily to Whatcom and Fairhaven from Mission on the main line.

"The Great Northern is now making for Fairhaven as a terminus. This road is the continuation of the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba road, which now runs to Helena, and is being constructed from the Montana capital to Spokane Falls. From Spokane to Fairhaven is 400 miles, and the contract will be let shortly for that stretch.

"Now if you look at the map you find that Bellingham bay is on a direct line with the straits of Juan de Fuca and is the nearest point for Pacific shipping. It is 70 miles nearer the ocean than Vancouver and over 100 miles nearer than any other place on the American coast. We expect to become the real terminus of the C. P. R. Japan steamships. All their cargoes for the American cities in the east will then be sent from Bellingham over the Great Northern, which will connect at Duluth with a branch of the C. P. R. to Sault Ste. Marie, and from there will go over the Canadian line to the Atlantic seaboard.

"This Great Northern, I understand, is being built by Canadian Pacific capital. Last month Lord Mountstephen, Sir Donald Smith and J. H. Hill, the great railway king of Minneapolis, met at Fairview. It was then rumored that they settled on the scheme for the Great Northern, which is to run out the Northern Pacific and be the American line of the Canadian Pacific railroad. You can see that with all these railways New Whatcom and Fairhaven will be the metropolis of that section of the coast. We have a great coal country which these railways will open up, and considering everything think we are going to be the people."

Recently the following notice appeared in the San Francisco Chronicle:

"Judge S. had been sick only about two weeks, and it was not until the last three or four days that the malady took a serious turn. At the beginning of his illness he suffered from diabetes and stomach disorder. Later the kidneys refused to perform their functions and he passed quietly away. Thus ended the life of one of the most prominent men in California." Like thousands of others his untimely death was the result of neglecting early symptoms of kidney disease.

IF YOU

are troubled with diabetes, gravel, or any derangement of the kidneys or urinary organs, don't delay proper treatment until you are forced to give up your daily duties; don't waste your money on worthless liniments and worse plasters, but strike at the seat of the disease at once by using the greatest of all known remedies, the celebrated Oregon Kidney Tea. It has saved the lives of thousands. Why should it not cure you? Try it. Purely vegetable and pleasant to take. $1.00 a package, 6 for $5.00.
